SPRINGTIME STUDY HALL BLUES

It isn't easy,
 this sitting inside when it's springtime
 You get restless
 and feel like jumping up
 and running out the door
 into the world
 --without a corridor pass.
 The Whisperers shrill
 back and forth
 across--the rows of desks
 You can't sleep
 You listen to the noises of monotony
 pencils scratching
 fingers drumming
 pages idly turning
 pens tapping...
 You watch the clouds move
 or stare at the ripples of heat rising from the radiators
 past the open windows.
 Your eyes feel heavy
 and your lead-weighted feet ache to be barefoot and pounding against the packed sands
 of a hot windy beach.
 Outside, a truck roars past and everything vibrates for a brief instant
 Floors, desks, students--- everything comes wavering to life
 and nods back into death
 You glance at the clock on the front wall
 and sigh.

HUGELY-OUTR

The Paul Manganaro Trophy is given each year to the outstanding lineman in the Everett-Medford game. Paul Manganaro was killed in an automobile accident at the peak of his football career.

PAUL PIETRANTONIO earned the trophy as this year's outstanding lineman. He played a tremendous game at middle linebacker and led the Everett defense in tackles and helped stifle the powerful Medford offense.

The Jeffrey Jeweler's Award is given each year to the outstanding Everett football player for his achievements on the field. The entire student body at Everett High votes for the player they think deserves this honor.

This year's recipient was Frank Nuzzo. This is the second time that Frank has received this award and he is the only player in Everett's history to receive this award twice.

James Penta

At this time, we would like to give special recognition to Jimmy Penta. In his twelve years of school Jimmy never missed a day. GOOD WORK, JIM!

Dennis Aylward

This year's HARVARD BOOK AWARD was presented to Dennis Aylward. Dennis received this award because of his outstanding physical and scholastic abilities.

The Student Body of Everett High School chose Dennis as Good Government Day Representative which is held each year at the State House in Boston.

Good Government Day was initiated by a graduate of Everett High School, Sumner Whittier, former Lt. Governor of Massachusetts.

FOOTBALL

The Crimson Tide of Everett led by Captain Vin Sabella had another fine season winning the G. B. L. for the second year in a row. At the beginning of the season the team sputtered on offense but excelled on defense. They dropped their opener to Newton by the score of 7-0 and the second game against Somerville was more of the same. The only score came on the opening kickoff in the second half by the Somerville safety. Everett's defense showed signs of life during the game, but the offense failed to bring the ball over the goal line.

The next week Everett traveled to Quincy for the third game where Everett's offense finally exploded. Paced by Frank Nuzzo's three touchdowns, Everett trounced Quincy 32-6. This game set the trend that Everett was to follow the rest of the season.

The Crimson Tide played their third interleague game with Revere, and Revere was held scoreless by the best defensive unit in the G. B. L., the game's only score was on a spectacular 35 yard pass from Nick Fiandaca to junior Kevin Washington. The defense added two more points as Vin Sabella and Paul Pietrantonio sacked a Revere running back in the end zone for a safety. Final score: Everett 8 Revere 0.

On October 21 Everett High invaded Hornel Stadium for a battle with the undefeated Medford Mustangs. The lone score came on a fabulous 103 yard interception run by Frank Nuzzo as both defenses refused to yield. Everett became a top contender for first place in the G. B. L. winning this game by a score of 6-0. In this game Paul Pietrantonio was awarded the Paul Manganaro Trophy as the outstanding lineman in the Everett-Medford game.

The fifth game was against an overrated North Quincy team. It was one of Everett's best days as they went through the first half without a penalty. The two touchdowns were scored by Frank Nuzzo on runs of 53 and 4 yards. With the game ending 14-0. It was Everett's third shutout in a row.

The second non-league game was against Beverly, who hadn't won a game all year. The offense drove for two touchdowns; one each by Nuzzo and Fiandaca. The game was highlighted by big defensive end Jim Penta who picked up a block punt and scrambled for a touchdown, adding six more points for the defense. All three conversions made the score 24-0 in Everett's favor. This game put the Crimson in undisputed first place.

The eighth game was a touchdown fest against Malden. Practically everyone that touched the ball scored, as the Tide rolled up a score of 50-7.

Turkey Day brought Everett's final game against rival Chelsea. Frank Russo, recovering from a back injury, set the pace for an Everett win as he literally ran over the Chelsea defense. The Crimson's defense held Chelsea to eight points as they wrapped up the season with a 34-8 win.

We wish to congratulate the Crimson Tide Team of '72-'73 and coaches Mr. Moody Sarno, Mr. Bob Marques, Mr. Richie Green, Mr. John Di Biaso, and Mr. Tony Sarno for an outstanding season.

Hockey

The Everett High Hockey team led by Co-captains Kevin Barry and Paul Dimi-truk were ready for another season. This year's team was young and inexperienced. Though the team battled every game they lacked the scoring punch they needed to be a winner. The defense held the opposition's offense down by boasting a 2.85 goals against average.

The season was high-lighted by two sensational games against first-place Malden and second-place Medford. In the game against Malden the Tide outskated and outchecked the G.B. L. champs for three periods, but on a defensive lapse with less than a minute left in the game Malden's forward, Matt Mardin tied the score at 2-2.

The second game was an example of outstanding goal tending by senior net minder, Ed Gianantonio as he kept coming up with the big save to keep Medford off the scoreboard. The lone goal of the game was scored by sophomore forward Rick Schuman.

Co-Captain Kevin Barry received a starting berth on the G. B. L. All-Star Team. Ed Gianantonio received honorable mention.

Basketball

1972 — 1973

The Crimson Tide of Everett looked forward to another season of basketball with returning lettermen Co-Captain Jim Penta, Co-Captain John Ronan, and Arnie Heavey leading the way.

This year's club played an aggressive man to man defense coupled with a fast-break offense.

The offense was triggered by senior forward Jim Penta and junior center Kevin Washington's boardwork and Arnie Heavey's shooting.

The defensive bulk fell on juniors Mike Marchese, Kevin Giannantonio and seniors John Ronan and John Pesella.

The team's hope for a Tech berth was shattered when three one-point losses in a row went to Revere, North Quincy, and Somerville.

Coach Vic Pisacreta tried to rally his troops, but teams like Medford and Arlington were too strong.

The Tide ended up with a record of 9-9 and fourth place in the Greater Boston League with a league record of 7-7.

I love him for his size
I love him for his curly hair, his mouth,

He's not especially studious
and doesn't read a lot
But he's so very sweet to me
I'm powerless in his arms you see
And that's a mystery to me
But my reason has to be
He's so super in Industrial Arts
That he has won my heart!!

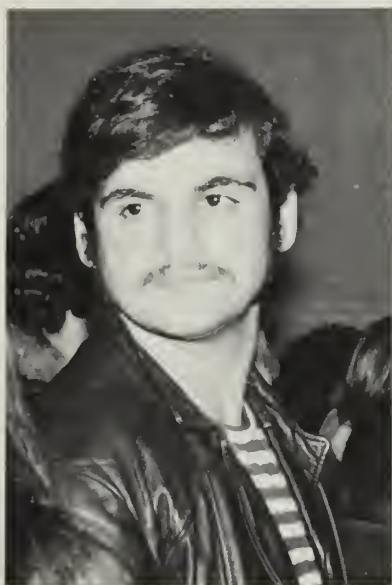

TAKE INDUSTRIAL ARTS

He never needs a key
My battery feels awfully low

All because I know he's in Industrial Arts
That's definitely the reason why
That he has won my heart!!!

Class History

On September 7, 1960, some thirteen years ago the CLASS OF 1973, our class, began its lengthy struggle toward graduation. On that day we entered our neighborhood elementary schools, the boys in their white shirts and bow ties, the girls in their little starched dresses--all of us accompanied by our proud but apprehensive mothers. I doubt if any of our parents could envision that thirteen years later we would be walking around the Everett High School wearing worn jeans, working shirts, and boots. Our boys wearing their hair the length of some of the girls and hardly a white shirt in view, to say nothing about sporting a tie. The girls doing their level best to look utterly gross.

Those first seven years quickly passed, leaving us to acquire junior high status. No longer did we attend the many elementary schools. We were now divided into four larger groups and housed in four schools, namely the Center, Evans, Lincoln, and Parlin. Now we knew that graduation day was a feasible goal, we had made it half-way.

By September 1968 we had met almost every member of the CLASS of 1973. At the Parlin we were permitted to join the various clubs--Debating, Dramatic, Glee, Band, etc. We were allowed to compete in organized sports and our decision making abilities were beginning to be recognized. We thought long and hard on what our futures were to be.

When Mrs. Wallace, our music teacher, died unexpectedly, death suddenly began to have meaning for us. Next year Carol Barber, a well-loved classmate died of cancer and we abruptly realized the finality of death and how alive and fortunate we all were.

Our year in the ninth grade was quite different from a traditional freshman year as we were not in a school with students who were eighteen years of age just waiting to step into the adult world, but we were the oldest.

Names like Frank Nuzzo, Frank Russo, Vin Sabella, John Ronan, Kevin, Barry, Paul Dimitrick, Jim Penta, Arnie Heavey, and many, many more were etched into our minds because of the sport teams at the Parlin. Four years later these are the names that come to mind when we think of football, basketball, hockey, track, and baseball.

Parlin graduation was an unforgettable affair for all of us. Various students received special awards for scholarship, fidelity, debating, and oratory. Many of us received the Parlin "P" and we were happy to note that most of those students went on to become members of the National Honor Society.

We used our sophomore year well. We all matured physically, developed our personalities, and worked hard to improve our minds.

Our class leaders began to blossom. President Frank Russo and Vice-President Kevin Barry emerged to hold our class together over the next three years. We were fortunate in our strong representation on the student council.

In our last year we even had representation on the School Board. WE had reached the ULTIMATE.

If nothing else our class had spirit. Remember all the "new-school" assemblies, the marches on City Hall, etc.? Who could ever forget the ping-pong games that were played using the dress code as a ball? During our time we even saw the school cafeteria improve. What other graduating class in Everett High's recent past can boast of having tables and seats for luncheon?

Our clubs were strong. The Anti-Environmental Pollution Club became deeply rooted. At the Science Fair the Committee's exhibits educating the public on the effects of pollution on ecology were notable.

The Spanish Club was one of our most active organizations. During our time at Everett High the club expanded its Good Neighbor Policy to include visits to patients in the local nursing homes. At Christmas and Easter time parties were given for those elder citizens. Each year a Christmas party was given to the local Spanish-speaking children. The club provided a scholarship for a deserving college-bound member at graduation.

The Dramatic Club's productions were well-worth attending. "THE ME NOBODY KNOWS" was a "first-ever" musical presented during our senior year. Needless to say it was a smashing success both in performance and box office.

The French Club, Future Teachers of America and the School Newspaper re-entered the scene during our time.

Our Band, Majorettes, and Cheerleaders were super, the result of their persistent and dedicated work.

Both our Junior and Senior Proms were memorable events. Our committees worked long and hard. The Junior Prom was held at Tremont Villa and The Sydney Hill Country Club in Brookline.

The yearbook staff did a fine job to produce one of the finest yearbooks in the school's history.

It's been a good thirteen years. Often it was fun time, but more often it was work time.

Our school nurse, Mrs. Rita Keefe, R.N. died early in our senior year. Many students loved her as a real true and understanding friend and her untimely passing was a sorrowful time for us all.

Well the future is ours. Hopefully, our past thirteen years are only a prelude to a bright future. It was a time we can never relive, except in our memories. But who can afford to waste time on the past when there are so many days and new experiences awaiting to challenge us.

ANDREA GROUT

True friendship will never come undone.
